Waiver of Liability

I understand that attendance at a private or group dog training class, event, and/or function, home training sessions included, is not without risk to myself, to members of my family, to guests who may attend with me, or to my dog(s), since there may be situations and dog(s) to which I will be exposed that may be difficult to control and may be the cause of injury to persons or dogs, even when handled with the greatest degree of care and precaution.

I assume full responsibility for myself, for my dog and for anyone attending with me. I hereby release and waive any rights I have by law to hold A Bark Away Dog Training, Patricia Maistros, its agents, volunteers and employees and facility/property owners and management liable for any illness, injury or loss that may occur to me, to my dog, and to anyone attending with me, or my home. I, the owner of the dog described in attached registration form, hereby agree to secure a proper training collar and leash as directed by A Bark Away Dog Training.

I agree to provide proof of vaccinations as requested and understand that my dog may not be admitted to class without such proof being provided. I pledge to abide by the stated rules and will insure the same of my companions. I understand that the degree to which a dog is successfully trained is a function of the interest, commitment, and cooperation of the guardians. I acknowledge and agree that there is no guarantee that my dog will achieve the desired level of training despite the best efforts of the instructor.

I further understand that in order to secure my space and time in class or in my home, other clients may have been turned away, so there is no refund of any kind if I cancel less than 7 days before the class/in home sessions begins, or am unable to complete the classes for which I have registered. Make up classes may be allowed at the discretion of the instructor. Enrollment is done on a "first come first served" basis. Class fees are due in full with a completed Indemnity Agreement, Registration Form with New Student Profile prior to first class/session.

I acknowledge that I have read this Waiver of Liability and that I am entering into it voluntarily and with full understanding of the terms contained herein. I further agree that this Waiver of Liability is binding for this and all subsequent in home sessions, classes, events, and/or functions that I attend.
